Fat Tire Challenge

I am doing the fat tire challenge in Sigel, PA on June 20th. I was wondering if anyone else has run this course before and had any opinions about it. It doesn't appear to be very technical but I was hoping for some ideas of what to expect since this is the first race I have ever done.

Thanks

Was very fun, but IMO very technical course.

The signs made me laugh.

like right before the huge climb

"get your happy face on"

during one of the rock sections

"if you want smooth obstacle free trails become a roadie"

There was also a sign that said something like "7 miles to go - don't get lost" and IIRC it was right around the wrong turn section. I saw someone do a face plant right after the "No face plants" sign. I did a gel like 100 yards right before the "Just GU it" sign. Uncanny..

Have to agree, the signs were hilarious. Lots of good volunteers, well-organized, good trails. First time to that race, but I really liked it quite a bit.

Good race, good volunteers, good organization. The technical stuff would be the rock gardens.

Here's my race report if you're interested.
